Real Competency, Confidence through expertise, Compliance for safety, Trust you can build on.

One direction, one team – He waka eke noa

Join Us for a Groundbreaking Event!

In an environment where public safety, liability, and trust are under increasing scrutiny, the need for real competency has never been more critical. This conference brings together industry leaders, regulators, educators, and practitioners to explore how technical excellence, regulatory compliance, and professional accountability work together to build confidence — in our systems, our structures, and our people.

We are inviting industry people to share their knowledge with our conference delegates by presenting at the conference. We are wanting topics relating to the theme above and also of benefit to the industry like new technology. We encourage you to submit an application with an abstract so that we can ensure that your topic aligns with our conference.
